(various employees giving a behind the scenes look at the Scraps from Home program which turns food scraps into compost that can be used by nonprofit partners)

Voiceover:

Through the scraps from home program our employees are collecting between 800 and 1000 pounds of food scraps each month, to be turned into compost.

The program starts with collecting food scraps at home. Then employees take the scraps to one of our six offices participating in the program.

After dropping the scraps off, they are turned into compost. A nutrient rich soil – perfect for plants and gardening.

The compost is then donated to local nonprofit partners to help their gardens flourish.
